

challenging, exciting, equality, healthy, easy accessible and more:

CCI co-counselling, network and definition

my contribution to the news service

CCI contacts

press clarification
local of terms
international

CCI active trainers

abc by country

international

CCI offers and needs

CCI communities

CCI newsletters

CCI literature

CCI web sites

England and Wales, Germany, Hungary, Ireland, the Netherlands, New Zealand, Scotland, United States

CCI

international meetings

Ireland 30-07 – 06-08 2000
USA April 2001
Hungary August 2001

correspondents

this world news service reflects the CCI existence and development

email: cciwns@planet.nl

Australia Mitch Malek

Germany Siglind Willms

VREDE - FRIEDEN - PEACE

Starting June 22nd (Thursday 19.00 o'clock) until Sunday June 25th 15.00 o'clock there will be at Haus Kloppenburg in Muenster, Germany, a special workshop for women about Vrede, Frieden, Peace.

This international workshop will be about problem-solving and fair-fighting for women. Let them discover their constructive aggressive energy, reports Siglind Willms (Germany) who is facilitating this workshop together with Joke Stassen (the Netherlands). The workshop will be at Haus Kloppenburg, Wasserweg 149 in 48149 Münster, Germany. The costs are 200 DM and if some person can't afford it, there is a possibility to get the money from a special club which supports Haus Kloppenburg. Participants may contact Siglind Willms, Wasserweg 149 in 48149 Münster, Germany telephone: 0251/82913 or e-mail. (22-05)

CCI USA 2000

Hit supplement and see more pictures about the international CCI co-counsel meeting USA 2000 from April 25 until April 30. This special information will be accessible until the first of June 2000.

Photo: a participant of this CCI meeting typing her contribution. Honouring the CCI culture of keeping privacy, we do not publish names. (29-04; 30-04; 11-05;22-05)

To day is the last day to make your own copy of our supplement of CCI USA meeting 2000!

method for handling

our emotions

Handling our emotions is an art. Arts are mostly highly personal. So is handling our emotions. Often the feeling is, that the current atmosphere does not exactly contribute to process our emotions now. So we postpone that process for a more suitable situation.

In the meantime we force our attention to other items and think that we forget them. We do not. They are well stored for the time being in 'the freezer'. Frozen emotions, not being processed by lack of room to do so - in the perception of the person in charge - transform often into patterns of behaviour to protect our original feelings. These patterns can stand for a very long time and are often automatically running.

The art of defrosting the frozen emotions by re-experiencing, in a tolerant environment, is called Co-Counselling International (CCI). That process causes freedom by evaporating of the patterns and enables us, within the framework of the CCI method, to come into being of our personal human potential. (continue)

three times CCI.....

The content of the abbreviation CCI differs in the co-counselling world in three ways. First of all, CCI stands for: Co-Counselling International. Although the word counselling is written here in the British way and the Americans are used to write it with one l as 'counseling'. ns (26-04) (continue)

mini CCI Hungary September 2000

list of 21 active CCI trainers

We very welcome Corrie van Haasteren as the fourth active trainer of CCI co-counselling from the Netherlands on our international list of active CCI trainers.

Hungary Csaba Ghimesy
Ireland
Netherlands Joke Stassen
New Zealand Graham Howie
England +
Wales Paul Shevlin
Scotland Rose Evison
United States Bob Sawyer
co-ordinator Niek Sickenga

tional list of active trainers of CCI.
We now reached the number of 21 trainers on this list. By joining this list, trainers do support as well themselves and their colleagues as the method of CCI co-counselling and we celebrate that!
ns (24-05)

---

top `<img src="http://home.planet.nl/cgi-b`

supplement CCI USA 2000

CCI USA 2000

With this edition we start a special supplement of CCIWNS about CCI USA 2000. This supplement will be accessible until the first of June 2000. All contributions to and published by CCIWNS about CCI USA 2000 will be available; except some editorials. Photo top left: a participant of CCI USA 2000 typing her contribution to CCI world news. Photo on top: participants viewing the abundance offer of workshops at the spot, making up their mind what to attend. (29-04)

CCI USA starts to day!
Litchfield, New England, April 25. Today, at the end of the afternoon (local time, that is six hours behind local European time) the international CCI meeting USA 2000 starts at Wisdom House in Litchfield, Connecticut. At this CCI meeting USA, from April 25 until April 30, the gift the world CCI community got from the New Zealand CCI communities, will be shown in the big room where this CCI meeting and the days start with an opening circle. Representing the USA, as the attending Communication Co-ordinator of CCI USA, Bob Sawyer, received at the closing circle of that meeting, from the artist and member of CCI Auckland, Gavan Riley, and from CCI (trainer and co-organiser) Richard Goldsbrough, the gift at the end of the CCI meeting New Zealand 2000. On the photo, made by Four messages from CCI USA to CCI World News Service came in late last night local time. They are a mix of personal greetings and statements I like to honour, by giving them the audience of and share their messages with the readers of CCI World News. In some way this is a dilemma for your co-ordinator, because now it is his turn and his challenge to discover how to report this. One wish is to report, the other is to honour the privacy of those who wrote. The result is, I hope, worth reading and please remember, it is a try out! And thanks to all of you!

ns (28-04)

'It was so good to hear your news. You are missed, I will be in Ireland in July at CCI. I hope you might be there so that we can connect. We don't have a reporter here at this workshop, so no daily news. You are missed for many reasons. It is a good workshop. Lots of nice people. And lots of good work. Love to both, and warmest best wishes till we meet again. Soon I hope'.

Thank you for all your messages and for the CCI World News Service what a great job you've done. I'm here at my first CCI-USA and having a great time. It was snowing yesterday but has stopped now. I'm having such a great time here that I haven't stepped out of the house yet. Looking forward to seeing you somewhere, somehow :-). Meanwhile I'll "pull" you on the Net!

messages CCI USA 2000

'Co-Counselling International--- Home Sweet Home!!!! I love this time to connect with my chosen family. When I lived in Connecticut I longed to see co-counsellors from afar. Now I am living in Western New York on the Canadian border far from my community. I glance around the circle and see reflections of people over the years that are not here physically. Their faces, voices, and memories continue to echo within me. Maybe they are home nurturing a new born baby, or teaching a fundamentals, or recovering from surgery, or have passed away....Maybe they have integrated this process so deep into their lives they choose to no longer attend workshops....Whatever the reason:

2000. On the photo, made by Joke Stassen, Bob shows the wonderful piece of art he received there to take with him to the actual CCI meeting USA 2000 that starts today! 'It will also travel with me to CCI Ireland in August before being returned to New Zealand at the close of the Ireland workshop' he tells me. ns (25-04)

"see" you on the Net.

Your messages to us here at the CCI USA Workshop are posted all about. The gorgeous millennium banner from New Zealand graces our space. We have co-counsellors from the United States, England, Ireland, Scotland, Hungary and New Zealand creating a rich and wonderful workshop. Love & Hugs' one thing remains .....we are an International community committed to self awareness. We are eternally connected in a loving, caring way. This workshop is particularly special to me as it is my chosen husband's first CCI! I continue to be honoured to be a part of this community and process. Love and hugs to all'.

continue

top

supplement CCI USA 2000

Jane's song

Let me live the life I'm given,
 Cause for celebration.
 Live the only life I'm given,
 Free from imitation.
 I'll be me and you be you.
 We can have a life that's new.
 Each a dancer moving free,
 Celebrating harmony.

last posting from Litchfield .....

One of the new Dutch participants of CCI USA 2000 reports: 'it is great to be here at CCI USA! It is different, as you told me, from the European CCI's. I learned a lot from the Americans, especially from their structure in their sessions & workshops and the use of life action & self validation. The hospitality is overwhelming! Their country too! Wow!

the co-ordinator of CCI

the co-ordinator of CCI. World News wants to bring special thanks to Jim Marks, webmaster of CCI USA, for his input in energy and hardware (computer) commitment and support to our joint effort to let the world now, that CCI is a reality.

top